17-Day Chrysler Strike Ends

13-Cent Pay Hike Granted

GM Formula Disregarded

DETROIT—(AP)—The vanguard of 75,000 Chrysler corporation workers began trickling back into the plants today, their 17-day strike ended by a straight 13-cent an hour wage increase.

With their return the second major labor dispute in the automobile industry this year was written off the books.

Chrysler's settlement with the CIO United Auto Workers, announced last night, bettered by two cents the raise given 225,000 strike-threatening General Motors employes under a cost of living formula only three days earlier.

It provided less than half the original demand but more than twice Chrysler's best previous offer.

It also extended the company's contract, due to expire in 11 months, until August, 1950. Either Chrysler or the UAW can seek an adjustment of wage rates once any time after June 15, 1949. Salaried employes, some of them represented by the UAW, were given an eight per cent raise with a floor of $20 a month.

There was no official explanation as to why Chrysler settled for a flat sum rather than the widely-heralded GM sliding scale. However, a union customarily holds out for a penny or two more than the pattern for its members on strike.

Chrysler would not say whether it plans to raise car prices to cover its higher labor costs.

FORD ACTION REMAINS

The agreement left only the Ford Motor company of the industry's big three yet to settle with the UAW in the third post-war wage drive. It apparently knocked a second prop from under Ford's counter-demand for a wage cut.

The auto union promptly hailed the settlement as "a signal victory for all American workers in view of the determination of industry as a whole to fight against any wage increases at all or, in some instances, to fight for wage reductions while prices continue to rise.

Norman Matthews, UAW Chrysler director, said the strike had "cracked the solid opposition" of the auto, steel and electrical industries to pay raises this year.

Chrysler's average hourly wage was boosted to $1.63, compared with GM's $1.61 under the new contract there. But a slight rise in the cost of living could push GM's average past Chrysler's when the first quarterly adjustment is made in September.

Fire Claims Lives of 6

CHICAGO — (AP) — Six persons were killed and another was injured critically today in a fire that raced through an old three-story apartment building on Chicago's west side.

Shortly afterwards, a second fire roared through a similar building in the same neighborhood. Seven persons were injured in the second blaze.

Deputy Fire Commissioner Anthony J. Mullaney said there appeared to be no connection between the two fires but that his office was making a routine investigation for signs of arson.

The two buildings were located within a mile of each other and the fires occurred within a period of almost three hours.

The first flared up so quickly that the dead and injured were trapped in their beds. The second fire was discovered early enough for all but one of the injured to escape by leaping from windows or fleeing down the stairways.

Nine Quit Czech London Embassy

LONDON —(AP)— Nine members of the Czechoslovak embassy in London resigned today in protest against the manner in which their homeland's parliamentary election will be conducted tomorrow, an embassy spakesman said.

It was understood that those resigning included the military air attache, General Jan Plass, and his deputy.

50 Women Flee From One Mouse

CHICAGO—(INS)—It was only a little mouse, but it was big enough to rout 50 women in the jury room of the criminal court building.

The mouse leaped out of the knitting yarn of Mrs. Mabel Zirbes, one of the jurors who claimed she wasn't afraid of mice. To prove it she trapped the mouse under an empty milk bottle, but a man, James Bernardo, court clerk, ended its life with a window pole.

Then the other women got down off of window sills, chairs and tables and went back to work.

Union Asks 'No' Vote On Time Change

Local 711 Says Plan Opposed By Workers

Local 711, United Electrical Workers, has sent letters to each of the city's nine councilmen asking the legislators to oppose fast time when it comes up for a vote at the Tuesday night meeting.

Union officials said workers oppose daylight saving time because it will force many of them to get up in the dark.

Council defeated the time measure March 22 by a vote of 6 to 3 with Harry Hollingsworth, Clifford Knarr and Thomas Wright voting for it.

Observers said they believed that the measure might pass next Tuesday by a slim margin.

Meanwhile the three councilmen who favored the change are circulating initiative referendum petitions designed to have the question put before voters in November.

Hollingsworth said that regardless of council's action Tuesday, he would seek to have the measure put on the ballot to settle the issue in the fall.

Since the defeat of the original measure in March, clamor for daylight saving time has grown. Petitions signed by persons terming themselves merely as taxpayers have been set to council.

Several large firms have put their offices on "super standard time," that is from 7 a. m. to 4 p. m. instead of 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., so that the offices will be open the same period of time as the majority of cities in the area east and north of Mansfield.

Bidders Mum At Sale of Used Cars

CLEVELAND —(AP)— A Cleveland automobile auctioneer today reported used car dealers here suddenly have adopted a "not buying" policy because of current high prices on nearly new autos.

R. K. Patton, who conducted the weekly sale yesterday for the Cleveland Auto Auction company, declared afterwards:

"Where we sold a 1947 model last week for $1,775, we couldn't get $1,400 yesterday. In fact, we couldn't get $1,400 for a 1948 model. It all happened in the last two days."

Patton reported failure to sell some 75 late-model autos, although asking prices were reduced $200 or more within two days. Only two cars were sold, he added.

Judge Shows 'Dry' Humor

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif.—(AP)—Radio Comedian Phil Baker has a court-ordered year of abstinence ahead of him.

City Judge Charles J. Griffin, in fining Baker $200 yesterday on a drunk-in-auto charge, also directed him to stay away from liquor for a year. A drunk driving charge was dismissed. Baker had pleaded guilty to both the misdemeanor counts.

He was arrested May 20 while driving home from a party marking his 35th year in show business.

RADIOLOGIST DIES

Wallace Hits Anti-Red Bill

Claims Freedom In Endangered

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace attacked the Mundt-Nixon anti-communism bill today as "a declaration of war on the rights of free speech and free assembly in the United States."

The third party presidential candidate said "as the bill is framed, its penalties can be visited upon every organization which espouses the cause of world peace and progress," and added:

"The Mundt bill would empower the attorney general to proscribe our party and visit criminal penalties upon its members, in the event that it refused—as it most certainly would—to register with him."

Shortly before Wallace testified, Socialist Norman Thomas told the committee that the "third party" supporting Henry Wallace for president is controlled to a large extent by communists.

Thomas, presidential candidate of the socialists, also is opposed to the Mundt-Nixon bill.

Thomas said Wallace is not a communist and the majority of his enthusiastic supporters are not but the Wallace movement is "influenced by well-trained and very well-disciplined communists."

Thomas also told senators that the American Communist party and movement are under foreign control from Russia.

Bishop Smith was given a purse of $4,444 by the spiritual leaders and laymen as a token of their esteem for his guidance over a 16-year period.

The white-haired clergyman and leader of half-million Methodists told 2,000 listeners that "the heart of all religion is when self-centeredness changes to Christ-centeredness."

Never Another Like It

Seniors' All-Night Party Proves Hit

By NITA BRANSON

There have been gay and happy parties for graduating classes at Mansfield Senior high school in years gone by but the seniors who attended last night's first all-night party in the history of the school, were sure there had never been another like it.

From the moment the first of the 1,000 balloons strung up in the high school cafeteria went "pop" to the last tired but happy farewell at the Richland Recreation Center about 4 a. m. the party was a whopping success.

The party began with dinner in the cafeteria, where a Spanish motif was used. Covers were placed at the long tables for 374, including students, Supt. of Schools W. L. Miller and Mrs. Miller, Principal Glenn Rohleder and Mrs. Rohleder, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Bishop, and other faculty and school board members.

The dinner was excellent. It had been planned by Mrs. Frances Hypes, head of Mansfield's public school cafeteria, and carried out by Mrs. Paul Hauserman in Mrs. Hypes's absence. Everyone was served promptly and well. Menus for the girls took the form of Spanish fans and for the boys "Mexican hats."

Dessert out of the way, the fun began . . . fun that continued without pause until past the dawn.

HILARITY RUNS HIGH

William McGraw, acting as master of ceremonies, introduced the various "distinguished" guests, several of whom congratulated the class briefly. He then presented Harry Osbun, preside.t of this year's junior class, Norman Henry, president of the senior class, and Ralph Juniper, class adviser.

The final hilarious moment of the dinner program came when Peter Vogt, class vice president, presented ridiculous "awards" to Rohleder, Juniper and a half

5 Injured In Accident

Five persons, including an 18-month-old child, were injured about 9:15 a. m. today when two cars crashed in a pre-holiday accident on U.S. Route 42 just below the Sandy Hill.

General hospital attendants said the injured were:

Eugene Wade, 29, Dayton; lacerations of the head; Berman Smith, 26, Dayton, broken nose; Louis Takacs, 26, Bedford, severe laceration of right wrist; his wife, Louise, 24, fractured pelvis; their daughter, Karen Takacs, one and a half years, minor lacerations of head.

State highway patrolmen investigated the crash.

The state patrol reported that Takacs said he was travelling north when a car in front of him made a quick stop. To avoid the collision, he cut to the left on the turn and headed for a driveway on the left hand-side of the road.

Patrolmen said Wade, who reported he was travelling about 45 miles an hour, hit the Takacs' car broadside and turned it over on its left side.

Mrs. Wade and Mrs. Smith, who were riding in Wade's car, escaped injuries.

State Cool To Fund Plea

Vaughn Gives Request To Gov. Herbert

Gov. Thomas J. Herbert today showed little enthusiasm for the proposal of mayors of Ohio cities, including Mansfield, for a special session of the legislature to provide additional funds for hard-pressed cities.

The special session request was presented to the governor yesterday by Mayor Roy W. Vaughn as the spokesman for a group of city officials.

"The state is not in a position to solve the problems of the most desperate cities without dumping money unnecessarily into cities that don't need it," the governor said.

Mayor Vaughn told the group that Mansfield's financial condition was "pretty good compared with other cities," but that Mansfield had joined in seeking more funds to present a united front for needy governments.

OTHERS HARD HIT

The situation in other cities was not so good, however.

The Dayton representative reported an expected $125,000 deficit this year and said 1949 looks hopeless. Cleveland reported an expected $750,000 relief fund deficit and Youngstown a deficit of $300,000 despite the issuance of $300,000 in refunding bonds.

Toledo's Mayor Mike DiSalle said the city would be $200,000 in debt by the end of the year despite an income tax. Lima officials said their situation wasn't as critical due to the fact that they are letting many projects go.

The hitches in possible plans to aid desperate cities that want $15,800,000 from sales tax revenues distributed are:

1. Lack of a formula to send the monies directly to hardship cities; 2. the attitude of the rural dominated state legislature; and 3. the large increases in state funds granted during the last two years to cities.

The governor did promise, however, that he would seek advice from the leaders of the general assembly on the possibility of legislative approval of any action he might recommend and that he would meet with representatives of the cities to aid municipalities that need money to continue essential services.

Professor Faces Hearing June 11

COLUMBIA, Mo.—(AP)—A university professor was relieved of his teaching duties and free on bond today after sodomy charges were filed against him and two other men.

Preliminary hearing for fifty-year-old E. K. Johnston, professor of advertising at Missouri university school of journalism, was set for June 11. He posted $3,500 bond late yesterday.

Rich Ohio Golfer Triumphs

SANDWICH, England—(AP)—Frank Stranahan, Ohio's golfing millionaire, defeated Charles Stowe of England, 5 and 4, today and took over the British amateur title surrendered by Willie Turnesa of White Plains, N. Y.

Stranahan won by taking five of the first six holes after lunch. The morning round, played in a drenching rain and high wind, over the Royal St. George's course, ended all even.

Today's triumph brought the wealthy young American his first major title. His ambition is to add the British and U. S. open and the U. S. amateur crown to the one he captured today.

Only during the lunch hour, when the players and the small gallery were off the 6,728 yard course, did the weather subside. The moment play was resumed the rain and wind began again. They needed 79 strokes each in the morning.

Stowe, who had lost to Stranahan in last year's Walker cup matches, said the elements didn't bother him although he was over par.

"I was very lucky," Stranahan said. "I should have lost both the 23rd and 24th holes—and I won them."

Turnesa was beaten yesterday by Stowe in a semifinal match, 1-up, to eliminate all chances of a second straight all American final.

What may have been the deciding shot of the day came on the 27th hole. Stowe, who predicted he would beat Stranahan, had just cut two holes off Stranahan's advantage when the American turned loose a tremendous 300-yard drive. Then came a No. 7 iron shot that landed 30 inches from the cup. Frank sank it for a birdie three for the four-margin that he maintained to the end.

Royal Pair To Wed Soon

COPENHAGEN, Denmark—(AP)—A source close to the royal family said today Princess Anne of Bourbon Parma will marry former King Michael of Romania in Athens June 5.

The princess will leave Copenhagen by air for Greece tomorrow, the informant added.

The wedding ceremony will follow the Green Orthodox ritual and will be performed by the aged Archbishop Damaskinos, the informant said.

Michael, 26, is a member of the Greek Orthodox church. Princess Anne, 24, is a Roman Catholic.

Last March Pope Pius XII refused to grant a special dispensation permitting the marriage. Queen Helen, mother of Michael, and Princess Margrethe, mother of Anne, had visited the Pope in the hope of obtaining the dispensation.

The marriage will take place on Denmark's constitution day. This is regarded as a courtesy gesture towards the Royal Danish house to which Anne belongs.

Anne and members of her family refused to comment on the marriage report.

Rath Workers End Walkout

WATERLOO, Ia. — (AP) — Members of the CIO United Packinghouse Workers Union have voted to return to work at the Rath packing plant, scene of rioting May 19 after a union picket was killed.

Company and union officials differed sharply, however, on the contract under which the workers are returning.

Lee Simon, union public relations officer, said union members voted to return "under the old contract agreement with the company, amended only on the wage issue."

Empire Wins Patent Suit

The path was open today for unlimited building of the hood type of annealing furnaces used in steel mills. Federal Judge Emerich B. Freed ruled yesterday that the Hoak patent was invalid because the idea was not new when it was patented. The decision may be appealed.

Clarence B. Hoak, Steubenville, and the National Colloid company, had sued the Empire Steel and Tin Plate company, of Mansfield, charging infringement of his patent.

Jews Fail To Break Blockade

Flames Sweep Through Old City

CAIRO — (AP) — Arab troops began an attack today in modern Jerusalem. Jews, short of water and food, tried desperately to break a blockade of all four highways entering the city.

Legion guns pounded Jewish concentrations in new Jerusalem, even as raging fires swept the ancient Jewish ghetto in the old city. There Israeli remnants, with food and ammunition gone, surrendered yesterday after a five-month siege topped off by an 11-day pounding from the guns of King Abdullah's Arab legion.

Now the Jews in all Jerusalem are under a throttling state of siege that can be ended only by the opening of supply routes to the Mediterranean coast.

"The battle for the defense of new Jerusalem and for the liberation of the old city continues," a Haganah (Jewish army) communique declared.

Thousands of Israelis and Arabs were locked in a battle west of Jerusalem for the highway from Tel Aviv which could supply the Holy City's 80,000 Jews. The Arabs threw armor, artillery, planes and all the manpower they could spare into the fight, Teel Aviv reports said.

REFUGEES LED OUT

Jews fighting to break the Arab ring around Jerusalem could see smoke and flames belching from the rubble-strewn old city. Arab forces commanding the Zion gate, led the last group of Jewish civilians—women and children, young and old, from the old city.

In the old city's police barracks, 294 Jewish men of military age were temporarily behind bars, waiting buses to take them to a camp at Amman, Trans-Jordan. Seriously wounded men, under the surrender terms accepted yesterday, were to be delivered to Jewish lines in Jerusalem, but the others of some 150 wounded may be kept prisoners.

Fires raged through the night in the Jewish quarter. The Arabs blamed Jewish mines which they said exploded from time fuses after the surrender was concluded. Some Arabs said the Jews kindled fires purposely before the evacuation of the quarter, which adjoined the south wall.

A dispatch from inside the old city said the ghetto looked like a chunk of blasted Stalingrad. The stench of death was heavy. Some Jewish bodies lay unburied and others had been covered hastily with thin layers of rubble.

To the west in the Latrun area the big battle which may be a decisive one grew hourly in intensity. Thousands of both sides were committed to the struggle for the lifeline road which links Tel Aviv with Jerusalem. Egyptian planes were reported taking part in the fight.

Fair Holiday In Prospect

The weatherman today held to his promise of a pleasant holiday week end for picnickers and Memorial service audiences.

Skies were expected to clear this afternoon or tonight. There's no prospect of rain Sunday or Monday, the forecaster said. It will be cool tonight and Sunday but warmer by Monday afternoon, the weatherman indicated.

An overcast and cool air from the north settled over the state last night. There was a little scattered rain in the south and central portions, but only a thin haze in the north.

Temperatures in Mansfield ranged from 52 to 78 during the past 24 hours. The mercury stood at 59

BIG CLASS—Men's Bible class at Main Street Evangelical UB church

Four Teachers Alternate for Men

Four teachers alternate in presenting the Bible to members of the Men's Bible class at the Main Street Evangelical UB church.

It is an innovation in Sunday school teaching but, according to Will G. Herrold, president of the class, "They're giving us high class stuff."

"You'd have to travel a long way to get better lesson presentations," Herrold says of the four teachers.

The quartet, C. M. Hunter, who has taught Sunday school for 27 years, Louis Bletz, for 20 years, D. A. Spayde and L. C. Hughes, each is assigned one Sunday out of the month. Bletz teaches the first Sunday, Hunter the second, Hughes the third, and Spayde the fourth. If there is a fifth Sunday one of the four fills in.

MERGER OF CLASSES

Although the class was organized Dec. 10, 1943, as a purely religious group, it soon became social and objective When the class was formed it involved the merger of two other classes the St. Paul's and the Young Men's Bible classes.

Class enrollment at the present time is 90 and the average attendance is 55.

"That's five more than we counted on," Herrold says. "We had hoped for an average attendance this year of 50 but everyone has worked so hard and is so interested that we've upped our average five more."

SEVEN ADDED

The same spirit of enthusiasm and interest has resulted in seven new members to the class this year, leaving only five more set as the year's goal

Besides attendance and new member goals, the class has a goal of raising $500 for the church building fund.

"We're raising that through the redemption of sales tax stamps and our collections of the first Sunday of each month. If our members work as hard at that as they have at other projects, we'll have no trouble in reaching our goal," Herrold declared.

$4 PARTIES

Social meetings, at which programs are presented and refreshments served, are held the second Friday of every other month. The expense is held to $4 and is paid out of the class treasury.

The class also has gone in for "publications." These include an annual year book and directory and a class quarterly, edited by Herrold, which tells of all the happenings of each three months, with some good advice and encouragement thrown in.

Present officers include, besides Herrold, who was superintendent of the Sunday school for 35 years, the following: D. G. Schooley, vice-president, B. C. Mawhorr, treasurer; Ray Laughman, recording secretary; Darl Stoffer, secretary, Floyd Thrush and Lyle Gerhart, assistant secretaries.

Highway Job Under Way

Millsboro Road Resurfacing Started

Resurfacing of Millsboro road from Millsboro to the Horning road will be completed within two weeks, County Engineer Walter E Rusk reported.

Rusk said gravel will be spread on 3.16 miles of the road, following ditching and berming.

County commissioners authorized purchase of 3,893 tons of gravel and 18 tons of calcium chloride for the project. The gravel, to be purchased from H. W. Fleck and Son, will cost $4,866. Fleck will haul and apply the gravel. Eighteen tons of calcium chloride will be put on the gravel.

Rusk said purpose of the calcium material is to draw moisture, helping to keep the road dust-free The material also has a slight cementing action.

Commissioners also authorized purchase of 1,200 tons of bituminous patching materials. The material is to cost $8,100. This is in addition to 1,360 tons previously purchased for the summer patching program.

Rusk said about 6,800 tons of the newly-bought material will be used during the summer. The rest will be used by the end of the year.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE FOUR — MANSFIELD, OHIO, SATURDAY, MAY 29, 1948

Drive carefully tomorrow and Monday—and also be cautious if your holiday includes water sports.

It was a restaurant patron who is reported to have casually remarked to the proprietor: "I see by the papers and your bill of fare, that Jesse James is still alive."

Talk has been resumed about nominating for vice president someone who is capable of becoming president—but such a departure from political routine can scarcely be expected.

MacArthur Follows Sensible Course

WHILE Gen. Douglas MacArthur may be regarded by some as continuing on the "receptive" list for the Republican presidential nomination, any such outcome of the Philadelphia convention seems too remote to enter political calculations.

There can be no doubt, however, that return of Gen. MacArthur to Washington at this time would occasion such an enthusiastic welcome as might be mistaken for support of his nomination rather than an expression of appreciation of his outstanding military career and the excellence of his record as supreme allied commander in Japan.

As Gen. MacArthur said, in declining the invitation to appear before the Senate appropriations committee next week to testify on aid needed in the Far East: "There is little I could add to what has already been said thereon and which is now before Congress."

Undoubtedly a warm welcome awaits Gen. MacArthur when he returns home after his long and arduous service in the Far East—but, in fairness to him, this should be free of political implications.

Railway Labor Act Lacks Strength

REGARDLESS of the ultimate settlement of demands of the three "hold-out" railroad unions, engineers, firemen and switchmen, it is evident that these organizations have shown an irresponsible disregard of the public interest and of the welfare of railway labor as a whole, under the Railway Labor Act.

It is true that the unions went through the motions of mediation, but they clearly violated the law's spirit. In the words of the Los Angeles Times, "the findings of the fact-finding boards are treated as meaningless."

Railroad management accepted the board's finding and agreed to abide by wage increases and rules changes it recommended. The changes were also accepted by 17 other railroad unions. But curiously, the three unions which refused to accept the official finding of the government's board, rank with the highest paid workers in all American industry.

When Impulse Leads To Tragedy

DANGER of acting on impulse was portrayed in a frightful way by the 41-year-old Marion man who killed himself and his two little daughters by deliberately driving his car onto a railroad track directly in the path of a speeding passenger train.

There was the domestic turmoil, a pending divorce action, and all the elements that contribute to a feeling of desperation—but it was impulse, not mental balance, that directed suicide and murder as a solution of difficulties.

Such impulsive acts, which often lead to crimes of violence, are customarily associated with mentally immature children, but the Marion tragedy gives point to the fact that some older persons lack the self discipline needed to guard against impulsive actions which may lead to life-long regret—or death.

Better Watch Those 'Comic Books'

AN ODDITY in the news is the extent to which larger cities are clamping down on the deluge of questionable "comic books", while many smaller cities—such as Mansfield—have apparently not awakened to realization of this form of inci ement to youthful immorality and crime.

Akron is the most recent city to start a clamp-down on unsavory printed matter that makes a special appeal to adolescent children. It is pointed out by Judge Bernard J. Roetzel, in a letter to police officials of Summit county that fantastic, adventure and truly "comic" books are not objectionable, and that historical comics are definitely beneficial. Objection is made to the flood of lurid so-called "comics" that depict "immoral deeds, lust and crime", which, the judge says, have no place in the hands of children.

It may be some time before Mansfield parents, character-building agencies and law enforcement officials awaken to the extent to which this sort of tripe is being circulated here—but it is gratifying to know that some other cities are recognizing need for elimination of the mental poison to which children are being exposed.

Gromyko Merely Voice of Moscow

IN RUSSIA it is only the top men who count. Too much should not be expected of the relief of Gromyko as delegate to the United Nations. Though he is a fairly important man, his departure does not mean that his successor will be any the less butter, any the less practised in saying "No!" Gromyko, after all, is only the messenger of Stalin and Molotov.

If either Stalin or Molotov gave up his post, that would mean something. In 1939 Litvinov, then minister of foreign affairs, had been advocating friendly relations with the Western powers. His replacement by the rigidly isolationist Molotov heralded a change for the worse in Russian foreign policy.

Compared with Litvinov's going, Gromyko's departure is an insignificant change in personnel.

It takes all kinds of people—unfortunately including a 37-year-old "beau" who is planning to marry a 90-year-old Brushton, N. Y., woman—but, as someone has said, "that's their business."

You'll enjoy shopping in Mansfield stores.

Threatening Weather For Another Flight.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Hopes Pinned On Manipulated Inflation

MR. TRUMAN'S second wind, which is one way of describing the lift of his popularity after his dark days in 1946, paralleled the big grain inflation of late 1947. Now his back is again becalmed, and Dr. Gallup says he is almost back to his record low.

Politicians, being devout students of history and being supersensitive to real or apparent aids to popularity, may feel that Truman's lump spinnaker may again be opened by a late summer breeze of inflation.

The President and his official associates have several means of producing another lift. And those who watch business and political trends may well take note of officially promoted rises in the months ahead.

Grain prices, due to good crop prospects here and abroad, are easing downward. The government has already bought all it needs for export until June 30th, but it is aggressively buying for export in July. If it wished to save money and lose Truman, it might wait a while, because more and more of the old wheat crop is now coming from the Southwest. But in view of threats to give the President the sack and draft Eisenhower, something must be done now.

* * *

Pre-Election Jockeying.

IT WOULD seem, since European crops are so promising, that it might be well to revise some of the quotas. But it can be taken for granted that the government will buy and buy to keep prices high from July to November. Germany and Japan can always use more, of course.

An inflationary-minded government can always encourage wage increases, but the natural law is already operating against that stimulant. It is a solemn economic truth that every wage increase is inflationary except the last one. The last one is deflationary because buyers' resistance ultimately prevails.

Labor leaders know that and they are now warily anticipating the end of their wage victories. They were deceived by the Truman administration's dire predictions of a meat shortage, and they launched the packers' strike. That ran into bad economic weather and failed. The Buick strike vote went against the union leaders, and now a G.M. settlement is announced.

There is trouble in textiles, where prices are going down and sales volume is smaller than was anticipated.

Pipe lines are filling up in many other consumers' lines, and thus the arguments for pay rises are getting weaker day by day.

There are vulnerable places, however, where the public is powerless to resist higher prices. There, the government has more authority.

The railroads, through their fact-finding board will probably agree on wage increases far greater than those granted by the meat packers.

The same rule may well apply to other carriers such as subways and bus lines. Higher fares and freight rates follow, of course, and the public must day.

In such soft spots where public utilities are involved and government is paramount, there is hope for those who wish inflation. But the hope that the President may be re-elected on such a basis is not bright.

Washington Calling

McKinley Looked Ahead

By MARQUIS CHILDS

SEVERAL times in this column there have been references to Republican leaders who want to take the country back to the log-rolling tariff days of William McKinley.

They have ganged up in the House to extend the reciprocal trade agreements for only one year and with amendments which would hamper this system of insuring the free movement of trade across national boundaries.

Now, from a friendly correspondent in Iowa, I learn that I have done McKinley an injustice. McKinley, the creation of Mark Hanna, the white knight of Republican oratory, was actually ahead of the party of today. Or, at any rate, he was ahead of the potent GOP leaders who believe they can sidetrack the reciprocal trade issue.

On Sept. 5, 1901, President McKinley made a speech at the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo. It was his last public utterance. On the following day he was shot by an assassin, and he died eight days later.

That was a singularly significant time in the history of the republic. The Spanish American war had pushed America's vital interests into the far Pacific, with responsibility for the Philippines. While most Americans in that comfortable era were not aware of it, the days of isolation were numbered.

In that last address, McKinley talked of the new era and of American responsibilities with something like prophetic vision. On the subject of trade, McKinley said:

"The period of exclusiveness is past. The expansion of our trade and commerce is the pressing problem. Commercial wars are unprofitable. A policy of good will and friendly trade relations will prevent reprisals. Reciprocity treaties are in harmony with the spirit of the times; measures of retaliation are not. If, perchance, some of our tariffs are no longer needed for revenue or to encourage and protect our industries at home, why should they not be employed to extend and promote our markets abroad?"

* * *

Same Old Tactics.

EVEN as he was speaking those final words, McKinley was waiting for the Senate to act on a dozen commercial treaties providing reciprocity—teaties that were caught in the jam of political pressures. Log-rolling senators could easily kill off those individual treaties. They could, and did, pick them off one by one.

That was a major reason for the Hull Trade-Agreements Act. It was intended to take such reciprocal tariff reductions out of politics and put the whole business in the hands of an inter-departmental committee that would consider it from the point of view of the economic good of the nation.

Now the little band of men who run the House mean to put it right back into politics, and all their double talk does not conceal that fact. Secretary of State George C. Marshall has said that passage of the one-year extension with its crippling amendments would be worse than no extension at all.

Unless the Senate can act with exceptional speed and determination, that is just what we will get. The chairman of the Senate finance committee, Sen. Eugene D. Millikin of Colorado, is a fair-minded man. It is inconceivable that he would use the high-handed tactiics of the House which kept the hearings secret and dismissed opponents as mere meddlesome clubwomen.

Here is an issue that gets down to whether the Republicans are capable of accepting responsibility for government in the middle of the 20th century.

The nations of Western Europe have followed the U. S. lead in moving toward a world trade organization built around reciprocal lowering of tariffs. If that policy is now repudiated, Western Europe will feel that we have run out on the kind of program which would make a real rehabilitation and reconstruction possible.

It is high time that the Republican party caught up with William McKinley.

Through the Centuries.

"By the rivers of Babylon, there we sat down, yea, we wept, when we remembered Zion.

"We hanged our harps upon the willows in the midst thereof.

"For there they that carried us away captive required of us a song; and they that wasted us required of us mirth, saying, Sing us one of the songs of Zion.

"How shall we sing the Lord's song in a strange land?

"If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning.

"If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth, if I prefer not Jerusalem above my chief joy."

Summary of Week's Happenings

Suggest GM Wage Boost May Set Pattern

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

GENERAL MOTORS corporation and its 225,000 CIO United Auto Worker employes arrived this week at a new contract, averting a threatened strike. More important, the contract embodies a new approach to the cost of living problem which may serve as a pattern for other industrial agreements throughout the nation.

In Washington Cyrus S. Ching, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, said he noped the pact would establish a basis for settlement of a number of other wage disputes now pending.

Ching, whose job is to help employers and unions settle disputes without strikes, referred to such key industries as coal, electrical manufacturing, telephones, maritime and stevedoring—now all in the process of negotiating new contracts.

First Major Concession.

The GM agreement is the first major concession in labor's drive for a third round of postwar wage increases. The union originally asked a 25-cent-an-hour increase but selled for an adjustable 11-cent-an-hour boost.

The pact is for two years, instead of the usual one. This promises labor peace for two years to GM at a time when demand for cars is at a record peak.

It accepts, for the first time in such a large industry, the principle of gearing wages to changes in the cost of living. An escalator clause provides that wages will go up or down one cent an hour when the federal labor department's cost of living index fluctuates 1.14 points.

These living cost changes are to be calculated quarterly for GM workers. It is agreed that no mattetr how far the living cost index falls, wage cuts won't total more than five cents during the two-year contract; but there is no limit on wage increases to keep pace with a rising index.

The company said the formula would cost it about $75,000,000 a year but declined to forecast whether that means another boost in car prices.

Scope of Formula.

Many government labor experts privately have advocated such escalator clauses for labor contracts. They contend the formula gives workers more money when living costs go up while at the same time it gives employers the incentive of lower wage costs if they help bring the price level down.

Prior to the GM agreement the steel industry, along with General Electric and Westinghouse in the electric industry, had adopted a policy of refusing to raise wages in order to reduce prices.

In Pittsburgh, U. S. Steel studied the new formula carefully, while declining comment as to whether the pattern possibly might be adapted to its field.

At Home

Jam In Congress.

Prospects for congressional adjournment by June 18 grew dimmer this week.

Unless both chambers can avoid the usual session-end squabbles, it appears that Congress will only recess for the Republican and Democratic national conventions in Philadelphia. It will have to return to clean up unfinished business in the capital's muggy summer weather. Night sessions are practically a certainty.

Congress has sent the President only four of a dozen appropriations bills. One of those remaining provides funds for the European Recovery Program. This is the most controversial of the lot. Until it is passed, the program is being financed by the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

In addition to the money bills, measures listed as "must" cover a wide range. They include the draft, admission of displaced persons, tenure of atomic energy commissioners, the Mundt-Nixon bill to curb communists, long range housing and the tariff.

* * *

Non-Partisan Approach.

Former President Herbert Hoover has named a 12-member working committee under Ferdinand Eberstadt, New York investment banker, to develop plans for stream-lining the national security organization.

Hoover heads a non-partisan commission on organization of the executive branch, created by Congress to work out a simpler and more economical plan of federal government. It will report to the 81st Congress which convenes next January.

* * *

Machines Outstrip Man?

The Navy is developing faster planes, ships and guns and wishes it could develop faster humans too. Automatic control equipment may have to help out the pilot.

"Because of inherent limitations in the speed of human reaction and perception, use of automatic electronic devices in weapons is mandatory in order to cope with high speed targets of the near future," says Secretary of the Navy John L. Sullivan in his annual report.

* * *

Poor Man's Diamond.

Chemists have produced a new synthetic gem, surpassing in some respects the diamond, at a cost of less than one-hundredth that of the diamond, it was reported this week by Jack DeMent of the Fluorescence Laboratories, Portland, Ore.

This manmade stone, christened the "Poor Man's Diamond," has more fire and emits more of the light it receives than a diamond, DeMent said.

It is harder than rubies, sapphires or any gem except a diamond.

Abroad

Global Problem.

The bloodspattered sands of Palestine still are wet. How much longer the blood-letting will continue appears to depend on the progress of negotiations in world capitals far from the Holy Land and the embattled Arab-Jewish armies.

As in the ditty about the music going round and round, the diplomatic talk goes round and round at Lake Success, London and Washington and its effect will come out in Palestine.

The United Nations cease fire order is a moral force. It is buttressed by all the prestige the United States can muster. That can mean plenty.

* * *

Ten Times Over.

The United States has poured nearer one billion dollars in military aid into Turkey in the past year than the 100 million dollars allotted by Congress, according to Maj. Gen. Horace L. MacBride.

In Istanbul this week, MacBride, chief of the American Army group mission in Turkey, reviewed the one-year-old military aid program and said it was a job well done.

Turkey's military forces have improved so greatly, he said, that their status hardly can be compared with that of 12 months ago.

* * *

Japanese Balance Wheel.

A rising birth rate and falling death rate are contributing to Japan's population problem, Gen. MacArthur reported this week. A total of 79,340,000 people now live in Nippon.

The 1947 birth rate—34.8 per 1,000—is the highest since 1925. The 1947 death rate—14.8 per 1,000—is the lowest since 1872.

MacArthur credited the occupation public health program with lowering mortality rate.

* * *

Bread on the Waves.

The French want to send a bread-and-butter gift to the United States but no one knows how to address it.

A group of young Frenchmen has formed a "National Organizing Committee for the Train of Appreciation", which they refer to mostly as "The Thank-You Train." They want to thank America not only for the Friendship Train but also for millions of food packages, the adoption of French villages by American towns and gifts of all kinds that Americans have sent.

They are getting an enthusiastic response to their plan of filling 48 freight cars—one for each U.S. state—with presents from the French people for Americans.

Quotes

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, soon to become president of Columbia University: "I hope to be able to learn enough about the procedure (of citizenship) to be able to go to the polling place and cast my vote in an intelligent way."

Prime Minister J. B. Chifley of Australia, rejecting Arab offers to buy 68,000 surplus rifles at three times their value: "We'll sell anything to everybody if we've got it, except munitions, which we refuse to sell to anybody."

In Short

Planned: By the President, a western speaking tour, starting June 3, wth five major addresses scheduled.

Named: By the President, Miss Frieda B. Hennock, New York lawyer, to the Federal Communications Commission, first woman ever appointed to the board.

Exercised: By Russia, her 24th and 25th vetoes, to bar a U.N. probe into the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia last February.

Ordered: By Federal Justice T. Alan Goldsborough, John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers' Union to show cause why on June 2 an injunction should not be issued against them for refusing to bargain collectively with the Southern Coal Producers' Association.

Some Beaver Legends

By CALVIN A. BYERS

THERE are some interesting legends about beavers that couple with known facts to make pleasant reading. Our government has used beavers as CCC workers in Idaho, to dam small streams. More than a thousand animals were so employed.

It seems a pity that this helpful animal has become nearly extinct. Once they were all over North America, from the Rio Grande to Labrador and Alaska. Their thick velvety fur was their undoing, for it became one of the earliest forms of currency used among colonists. Indians used the beaver, too, for food and clothing. The Astor fortune was based on beaver fur.

An old Seminole legend has it that Indian children captured little beavers for pets. Finally an agreement between the beaver king and the Indian chief provided that the beavers would build fish-stocked lakes for the Indians and each year would send the Indian children two beaver playmates. But the Indian chief died, and his successor broke the treaty, and warred on the animals. Then the beavers broke open the dams and flooded all northern Florida and Southern Georgia—the Okefenokee section. Since then beavers have had a sentry to guard each dam, who used a slap of his tail on the water to warn of approaching danger.

The beavers' method of dam building included cutting the trees, perhaps floating them to the end of a narrow valley through a two-foot-wide channel constructed for that purpose, plastering and chinking with mud and twigs. The dexterous forepaws serve as tools, the mud is carried by the armful, clutched against the breast of the beaver, who paddles with hind legs and tail.

Usually a beaver dam is about a dozen feet at the base, and a height of five or six. One dam, in Estes Park, California, was built more than 1,000 feet long.

It is thought that alluvial plains in upstate New York were made by beavers. When the water had carried in silt to the depth of the dam, it spread over a wide area. Early farmers called such level places "beaver meadows" even before geologists made the discovery of their origin.

Sometimes beavers build their burrows in a stream bank. Legend has it, though, that such beavers were unfit workmen, so were expelled from their tribes. Generally a beaver house is built of the same material as their dam—is forty feet in circumference and eight feet high—with roots and bark for cold weather cached beneath the ice around it, and plenty of air space inside.

They mate in February and in May the female gives birth to a litter of four young. Full-grown beavers average 30 pounds in weight, and have been known to weigh 60 pounds.

Financing Global War.

Editor News-Journal:

Each new global war is costing the nation some seven times more than the preceding one. At the end of World War II the carry-over debt was 260 billions, plus about 5¼ billions of yearly interest. At that ratio World War III would engulf our economy with some one and a quarter TRILLIONS of debt, plus about 40 billions of yearly interest.

The one hope I see for our economy to weather such punishment is to install a single unit dollar money system and make it operate this way:

1. Fight future war with interest-free dollar money issues by the U. S. treasury for direct government spending. Then, as income taxes are collected from the people, the government would cancel a like amount of dollar money out of existence, as a means of keeping the war expenditures account in proper money balance.

2. Require banks to borrow their money-lending needs from the U. S. treasury and pay about 2 per cent interest for its use. This would yield millions, perhaps billions, of interest income annually to the government, instead of the other way around, as now.

Claims Writer Offers Innuendoes To Conceal His Lack of Facts

WASHINGTON—The best answer that the New York Herald Tribune has been able to offer to observations on its party line and the dominant personalities in the strange new household of this fine old Church of England paper, has been an essay by John Crosby, who does the radio column. I would not go as far as to say that the party line of the H-T is also the party line of the Daily Worker.

There are some points at which a professional Muscovite ideologian could make out a charge of first-degree heresy and there are whole stretches in which I can detect no positive H-T line at all.

But I would say that the political line of the Herald-Tribune of recent years, and particularly since the death of Ogden Reid, follows more closely that of Marshall Field's Thing than that of the Republican party to which it professes its political devotion.

★

And This M. F. Thing, in turn, is closer to the line of the Daily Worker than the H-T is to the Republican tradition. The Thing recently passed into the hands of Joseph Barnes, who was until that moment the political pilot of the H-T.

We have had many clues to the political tenents of Mr. Barnes and his wife which have been canvassed here ere now.

At the time of the transfer of the thing to Mr. Barnes, the H-T said that "with respect and affection" it wished the Thing well. Those who have observed the character and political course of Marshall Field's Thing will agree that it has always been far to the left of Roosevelt.

So, now, by way of getting the H-T's political position we find that: (1) It calls itself a paper of the Republican party; (2) it's late boss ideologian, Barnes, goes over to the Thing and carries on without noticing the slightest change in political atmosphere; (3) it expresses "respect and affection" for this publication.

I find Mr. Crosby, of the radio column of the H-T, at loss for answers to revelations of embarrassing facts regarding his paper.

He speaks of me as an aging journalist, as aren't we all, and far from resenting this impudence I take this opportuuity to observe that Mrs. Helen Rogers Reid, who now runs the H-T, or thinks she runs it, looks prettier than ever since her hair turned white and her age turned 60. I hope I have her vigor at her age. Even so, I find in the reference to the stately march of time, no answer to points of allegation by me about the H-T.

What I said was that Joseph Herzberg, the city editor, in his official capacity appeared on a radio program as the guest of William S. Gailmor, a thief, a renegade of journalism and of his faith and a preacher of the communist line in the United States.

Mr. Crosby would have it that I am out of date because it is customary, in the radio business, for the performers to use the familiar "Bill" and "Joe" form, even though they be strangers.

But I have noted that this Mr. Crosby of the H-T was very careful not to say that "Bill" Gailmor and "Joe" Herzberg were strangers.

Long experience in the analysis of communist documents and editorials prompts the observation that Mr. Crosby denies nothing. He doesn't dare to say that Gailmor and his city editor were strangers who had just shaken hands. I might nail him on that. But he tosses out the idea. That seems to be the character of the Herald-Tribune now.

County to Sell 255 Lots for Taxes

Auction Set for July 1

All Properties Unimproved

The largest delinquent property auction in Richland county in years has been set for July 1, starting at 9:30 a. m., at the courthouse, Prosecutor Theodore Lutz announced today. Taxes on the properties total $9,760.

A total of 255 properties will go on the auction block. Some of the properties are delinquent in tax payments as far back as 1922, Lutz said.

All of the properties are unimproved, Lutz said.

Taxes on the properties range from 93 cents to $954.

Order of sale was issued by Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch after a petition was filed with County Treasurer Charles C. Payne as the plaintiff and Frank Trease and others, as the property owners, named defendants.

None of the defendants filed answers or demurrers to the suit for taxes. The lands, according to the court order, must be sold for at least taxes, assessments, interest, penalties and costs. The order says the properties do not have to be appraised.

OFFERED AS UNIT

According to the order all properties listed of any subdivision must be offered as a whole, but if no offers are received, they may then be sold separately.

The order said the sheriff may employ an auctioneer and clerk to conduct the sale.

A year ago in January about 40 parcels were sold while in May, 1941, more than 200 parcels were sold, Deputy Sheriff P. S. Carroll reported.

The 255 properties are located in Mansfield, Shelby, Lexington, Treace's subdivision, Bowman Heights, City Farms, Collingwood allotment, Crystal Springs, Geddes and Burns allotment, Hoffer addition, Homesite Gardens, Pleasant View, Lincoln Heights, New Trenton and Brookline additions.

dozen seniors—Marilyn Leattie, Jim Melchert, Dick Logan, Jack Dickson and Ernie Roberts.

After the dinner, guests went to the gymnasium, decorated in red and white streamers and vines and flowers to represent spring. There Paul Ringley's orchestra of Massillon played the kind of music that accompanies muted lights and lovely girls in pretty gowns.

Seniors were joined there by their chaperones, including parents and several ministers and their wives.

TELEVISION ATTRACTS

Punch was served at a side table. A television set drew crowds in-between dances.

At 10:30 p. m. Eugene Gump took over the microphone, giving a 15-minute skit of humorous impersonations. He was followed by the German band led by Richard Greisbach and Miss Joan Beard, dramatic singer, now studying at Ohio State university.

Peter Vogt again emceed for the awarding of prizes, while his "date" Marilyn Pendleton, drew the lucky tickets out of a hat.

At midnight, Norman Henry announced that it was time to move on to the Madison theater where "The Mating of Millie" would be shown with the compliments of Al Dennis, manager. For those who had no private cars, buses were furnished by Walter Burghard of the Yellow Stripe Cab company. More than 300 took their seats at the theater.

Following the feature and comics, prizes again were given with Arthur Merschdorf acting as MC and his date, Mildred Schmitzer, drawing tickets.

260 AT BREAKFAST

At least 260 — a little later drove into the Richland Recreation Center for breakfast.

"That was more than we expected," Juniper said today. "But some of the seniors found they were having such a good time that they kept right on going instead of going home as they had planned."

At the center, they were served a buffet breakfast of bacon and eggs, taking their places at small tables. Then Robert Troll stepped up to the microphone and started the final program feature. . . a 15-minute recording of part of the previous dance and the awarding of more prizes. These were presented by David Ganyard and his date, Nancy Osbun.

Jack Dickson closed the program and the party with an impersonation of the "Happy Hank" radio show.

Senior committee chairmen who helped in the planning were: Dan Bishop, gym decorating; Berniece Bauer, cafeteria decorating; Nancy Osbun, program; Ruth Ann Bush, orchestra and John McCarrick, seating. General co-chairmen were Marilyn Beattie and John Park.

AWAKE AND BUSY—These newly-awakened 17-year locusts are shown on a tree near Mansfield yesterday as the pests returned to the city area. The hand points to the fissures in the tree bark where the female cicada lays her eggs, opening up the bark for other insects to bore in deeper and, in some cases, destroy young saplings. Mrs. Edwin Casler, Mansfield, R. D. 4, reported she picked a pint jar of the insects off shrubs and bushes in her yard in 15 minutes yesterday and that great numbers of the pests are coming out of the ground. Reign of the locusts in this region is expected to last six weeks, posing a serious threat to orchardists who are advised to keep young trees wrapped with paper and cheesecloth. As the young are hatched they drop to the ground where they bury themselves near the tree rootlets and feed on the sap for another 17 years.—(N-J photo)

'Cycle Spill Hurts Youth

Accident Blamed On Hole In Road

A 20-year-old Mansfield youth lay dangerously near death in General hospital today, the victim of a motorcycle accident yesterday on Longview avenue. Police said the mishap was caused by a "very rough spot in the road."

The victim, Richard Junior Roller, 1255 Fleming Falls road, suffered abrasions and contusions of the arms, face and hands and a compound fracture of the skull.

He is in General hospital in what his physician described as a "very dangerous condition." The accident occurred at 4:10 p. m.

Police said the youth's cycle hit a place in the road which had been dug up by the Ohio Fuel Gas company and then filled in. Officers said Roller lost control of the motorcycle when he attempted to swerve between the rough spot and loose gravel at the side of the road.

Roller is an employe of the Barnes Manufacturing company.

'The Show Goes On' Despite Lousy Ice

By W. C. PETERSON

As courageous a bunch of youngsters as ever came to Mansfield silenced the skeptics last night. In the face of the most difficult ice conditions in their careers as professional skaters, they delighted a crowd of 2,100 persons at the inaugural performance of "Hollywood on Ice", and sent the crowd home at 11:30 p. m. acclaiming their skill, their beautiful costumes and particularly their determination that the "show shall go on." "Hollywood on Ice," given decent skating conditions, definitely is a top-rank ice carnival.

Everything seemed to have gone wrong for the management and, as lines extending to the street formed before the doors, there were many in the crowd who felt certain the show would have to be canceled.

Trucks arrived late with chairs, the refrigeration unit failed for what Ben Cowall, advance manager said was the first time in four years, and the seating arrangement, was at best decidedly inconvenient, confused and crowd-displeasing.

CROWD PATIENT

The crowd displayed exceptional good humor during the more than 45 minute wait past the 8:30 opening hour for the show to get underway.

Crushed ice had been used in an effort to speed the freezing of the stage. As a result the surface was rough and corrugated—dangerous to speedy skaters, uncertain and tricky.

Veterans of the show said it was the worst ice they had ever encountered.

There were spills, several of them.

Bobby Temple, in an act that included numerous thrill - packed jumps over hurdles, chairs, and even a card table, took several tumbles as his skates caught on jagged ice during quick stops.

STAR INJURED

Buff McCusker, former skating partner in films and in ice carnival of Sonja Henie, suffered an injury to his knee but returned to climax an elaborate chorus routine.

Dick Simonton, a versatile skater who appeared in solos and jitterbug numbers, ignored the perilous footing to get in a couple of his Arabian cartwheels. He is one of only about two dozen ice skaters in the world who do the stunt.

Helen Smith, billed as the world's fastest ice spinner, didn't spin last night. Ice conditions prevented that, but she won the crowd's applause with a beautiful performance in "Rachmaninoff's Prelude in G-Minor."

From the crowd's point of view, in view of conditions, Doc Carlin probably won top honors. His comedy acts, particularly his "school days" performance, brought loud laughs.

Cowall promised that the ice would be "smooth as glass" for the performance at 8:30 tonight. The show continues nightly at that hour through Wednesday and includes also a 2:30 Sunday matinee.

Settle Three Damage Suit

Three damage suits for a total of $40,825, filed in common pleas court against Mrs. Alma Hout Hoover, 145 Vennum avenue, as the result of an automobile accident, have been settled, a journal entry showed today. The cases were dismissed at the defendant's costs.

Rhea Shields of Carrollton, O., driver of a car which figured in a collision with the defendant's car, asked $10,506. She alleged Mrs. Hoover was negligent when the accident occurred Nov. 7, 1945, on the Ashland road, by driving out of a private driveway into the path of the Shields car.

A suit for $25,000 had been filed by Mrs. Mabel Bear, Wellington, R. D. 4, for injuries and medical expenses. She was a passenger in the Shields car.

Wallace Bear asked $5,319 damages for medical expenses for his wife and loss of services. He was not involved in the accident.

The plaintiffs were represented by Attorneys Weldon, Huston and Keyser and A. H. West. Attorneys Long, Anderson and Green, Shelby, represented Mrs. Hoover.

BIG HOLIDAY—

This holiday week end is going to be one grand celebration for the Andrew Decapio family, 20 Douglas avenue. They plan to make up for events they've missed since a series of illnesses started to plague the family Feb. 29 when Mary Jo, 5, became ill. Barbara Jean, 10, was next to be stricken. Then Ronald, 8, became ill with Measles and so did Mary Jo. Judy Anne, 9, alone escaped. As a result, the Decapios let Easter, Mother's Day and other events pass without observance. Now they plan to go to Cleveland to visit relatives, enjoy a Sunday dinner in a family spot, and visit the zoo. Although they'll celebrate Donald's ninth birthday, mostly they'll just give thanks that everyone is well again.

George Needs, 20, of Vernon Junction, will make his third trip back to the army—under guard—Monday.

Needs was picked up on his third AWOL charge by sheriff's deputies Friday. Deputies said the warrant was sent out from Fort Knox, Ky., and that Fort Hayes officials at Columbus will come here Monday to "escort" him back.

Deputies said Needs surrendered after successive unsuccessful attempts by deputies to apprehend him.

Resigned UE Head Scored

BUCYRUS—Replying to charges made by Edward E. Uhl, resigned president of Local 704 UEW-CIO, the local today issued a formal statement describing what it called "the real issue" in the resignation.

Uhl, in resigning, said he did so because national officers refused to comply with anti-communist provisions of the Taft-Hartley law.

Issues as presented by new local officials were as follows: A desire by the membership for more business-like meetings, including full financial reports of how local money was being spent; demands by the membership for a regular negotiating committee to handle grievances in the plant and to stop the "speed up" instituted by the General Electric company; increased interest by members in receiving the full benefits due them under the contract between the UE and GE company, and realization by the membership of the need to press the GE for a wage increase this year.

The executive board further stated that "they were in full accord with the policies of the International order."

Uhl, in announcing his resignation, also stated that "business meetings were being conducted in a dictatorial manner with the local not having a voice in business matters."

Neumann, a barber, stopped his car on the westbound tracks and was unable to start it when he saw the diesel engine only 75 feet away. The engine sheared off the front of the car.

Patrons Pick Productions For Players' Group Season

The 1948-49 season productions for the Mansfield Community Players were announced last night at the annual meeting at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

E. B. Gibson, president of the Players, said "Suspect" and "Laura" polled the highest votes in the recent patron survey. "Suspect" outranked "Joan of Lorraine" and "Antigone" in the drama group, and "Laura" polled highest in the mystery group with "Ladies In Retirement" and "One Mad Night" running second and third, respectively.

Gibson said the voting ended in a tie between "Skylark" and "Suds In Your Eye" in the comedy group. The choice will be announced later.

The poll was taken last month among more than 800 patrons of the players who were asked to vote for one play in each of the three groups.

Named as additional members of the board of governors were Author Louis Bromfield and Dean A Eckert, both elected to three-year terms. Four other board members, re-elected to serve three-year terms were Mrs. Joseph Ellison, Mrs. Trudy Clark, Miss Maurine Beal and Mrs. Bruce McGinty. All four finished one-year terms last year.

Gibson said that of the 154 persons taking part in last season's productions, 128 were new-comers to the Community Players.

Officers for next season will be elected at a meeting of the board to be held next week. Time and place will be announced later.

Northwest's High Water Losses Grow

Thousands More Flee From Homes

(By Associated Press)

More thousands fled their endangered homes today in the Pacific Northwest's worst flood in 54 years.

The death toll mounted to 15 and property damage soared into uncounted millions. Main rail and highway routes were disrupted and more were threatened.

An officially declared state of emergency existed in Washington and Idaho. The militia was ordered out in British Columbia to aid the swelling numbers of refugees.

An ominous new note in the disastrous floods was the announcement that the waters may stay above flood stage for more than a month.

Travel was disrupted in wide sections of Western Canada and to a lesser extent in Washington state. The transcontinental main line of the Great Northern railroad was cut by the Wenatchee river near Cashmere. Traffic was being rerouted over other tracks.

Vancouver, B. C., had only one rail link left with Eastern Canada

The main Columbia river highway east of Portland was closed by floods.

These were places where the heaviest new evacuation of homes was taking place:

Vancouver, Wash.—1400 persons moved out of the Fruit Valley housing project west of the city.

Yakima, Wash.—Several hundred families, many victims of panic, quit their homes. Breaks in dikes were rumored but all were minor and quickly repaired.

Fraser Valley in British Columbia—hundreds of stranded were being rescued by navy ships, barges and flood-rescue trains.

Bonners Ferry, Idaho—Business district reported worst hit with water two feet deep in the streets.

Thousands of workers struggled to build dykes to keep water out of many cities. Among these was the atomic city of Richland, housing a large share of the permanent employes of the Hanford atomic energy plant.

Three Held In Robbery Of U. S. Mail

Train Conductor Finds Stolen Pouch

WILLARD — Three men were held in Willard City jail today charged with robbery of a U. S. mail pouch, according to A. S. Dalrymple, head of the B. and O. police in Willard.

Dalrymple reported that the three men had taken the first class pouch off the platform in Cincinnati and boarded train No. 50. They left that train at Deshler and boarded No. 32 for Willard where they were arrested by Dalrymple, another railroad policeman and a city policeman.

The conductor of train No. 50 found the pouch under a seat and notified postal authorities in Toledo and railroad officials in Deshler. Willard officials were notified when the men boarded train No. 32.

A total of 10 men were picked up but a preliminary investigation, conducted by the mayor, Dalrymple, and postal authorities from Akron, indicated that only three were involved and the others were released.

Those held registered as Hawthorn Driscoe, 39, Rossmoyne; Lee Sullivan, 50, Alabama, and Ralph Wynn, 52, 1031 Gordon street, Cincinnati.

Seven bundles of mail were recovered. No estimate was made of the loss. The men were held pending arrival of a U. S. marshal from Cincinnati or Toledo.

Cleveland Lowers Chicago White Sox, 2-0

Sports Chatter

By Fritz Howell

By FRITZ HOWELL
(Ohio AP Sports Editor)

COLUMBUS— (AP) —Wrapping up a few loose ends of sports:

If you think Ohio's high school kids don't go in for varsity sports, just take a look at the record. During the 1947-48 school year, the number of teams and boys stacked up like this:

Football, 562 teams, including 72 six-man 19691 boys.

Basketball, 1,153 teams, 25,112 boys.

Track-field, 649 teams, 7,960 boys.

Baseball, 945 teams, 6,088 boys.

Wrestling, 27 teams, 295 boys.

Swimming, 39 teams, 578 boys.

Golf, 144 teams, 849 boys.

Tennis, 101 teams, 666 boys.

That edds up to 3,620 teams and 61,239 boys, a pretty fair batch of athletic talent.

The flying feet of Lancaster's Gene Cole, who set a new national 440-yard record of 48 econds for scholastic runners in the state meet last Saturday, carried him right past an industrial job and into a college career.

Gene, who has "batched" with his dad for 10 years, planned to learn a skilled mechanic's trade alongside his father, come June. But since his record-breaking feat, college offers have poured in.

Cole is still amazed by all the commotion his athletic prowess caused.

As part of the colorful ceremonies surrounding the world premiere of "The Green Grass of Wyoming," part of which was filmed in Lancaster, Gene has been programmed to ride on a parade float, in his track suit, Tuesday night.

The bashful kid just stayed away from school Tuesday, and couldn't be found at parade time Tuesday night.

After reading all the laudatory yarns about his 440 record, Gene strolled around the corner to visit one of the Lancaster coaches.

"Just what does it mean that I've set a new national record?" he asked.

Told that it meant he had negotiated the quarter-mile faster than any high-schooler in history, he stretched his long legs, leaned back and put a world of expression into a simple, a ed:

"Gee, whiz."

Meanwhile, the folk around Lancaster are working on a fund to send their speed demon to Dayton for the July 2-. Ohio AAU championships. If Gene is a winner there, the fund will be increased to send him to the National AAU trials at Milwaukee.

Coach Ray Coleman, who turned the kid into a national champion in a short six weeks after he had first donned spiked shoes, said Cole's training would be limited to preparing for the quarter-mile. Much of the instruction will be on how to get away fast from the starting blocks, for it is there that Cole has given away about five yards to his opponents before going on to win 38 of 39 races.

Christopher Pays Off In Relief

CHICAGO —(INS)— Russ Christopher is fast making Bill Veeck appear a shrewd judge of baseball talent.

The Cleveland Indians' boss paid out $25,000 to obtain the submarine hurler from Philadelphia this spring, but Christopher already has more than paid off in the percentage columns.

It was the gangling righthander to the rescue again last night as Cleveland handed the battered Chicago White Sox a 2-0 defeat.

Don Black started for Cleveland and sailed merrily along until the eighth, allowing but four hits. Black wilted in that frame, however, and Christopher was called in and put out the fire with three on and none out.

Meanwhile, the Tribe hit safely only six times, but at the right times. Joe Haynes gave the Tribesmen but one hit up to the sixth, but Cleveland got at least one each inning thereafter.

BREAK UP TIE

The Indians broke up a scoreless deadlock when Jim Hegan scored on Larry Doby's triple in the sixth. Cleveland added another run in the ninth on a double by Manager Lou Boudreau and a single by big Eddie Robinson.

Christopher really won the game in the dramatic eighth, however. Black began the inning by walking Tony Lupien. Taft Wright singled to right and Lupien dashed to third. Christopher came on the scene and proceeded to walk Ralph Weigel to set the stage for his heroic effort.

Christopher threw his patented sinkers at the next three batters to easily pull the Indians out of danger. Bob Kennedy forced Lupien at the plate, and Don Kolloway did likewise for Wright. Cass Michaels grounded to Ken Keltner, who stepped on third for the final out.

Bob Lemon was to take the hill today in the second of Cleveland's four-game series with the White Sox. He was to be opposed by Bill Wight, rookie acquired from the New York Yankees last winter.

Pete Thoma Wins Driving Contest At Richland Range

Pete Thoma proved himself to be the longest driver in the city last night as he propelled a golf ball nearly 300 yards to win the Richland driving range contest.

Representing Coolridge, Thoma outdrove the best from Possum Run and Westbrook and hit farther than the city's two pros, Tom Raklets and Joe Mayer, who drove several practice balls from the tee.

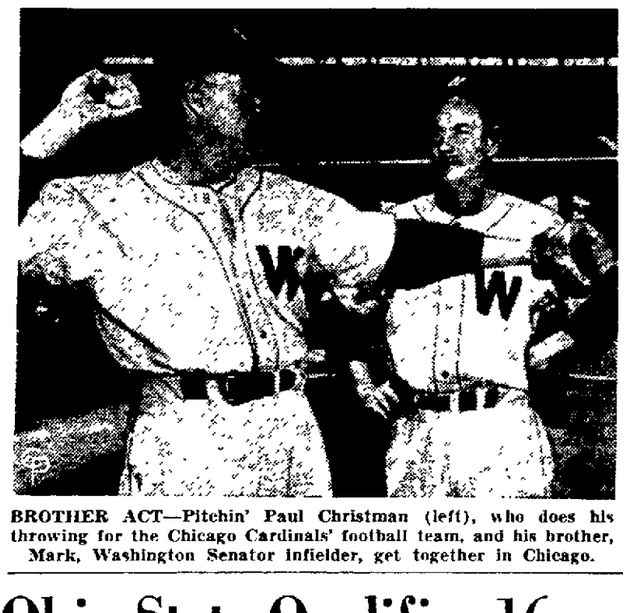
Jim Mussille, also from Coolridge, finished second in the contest while Red Dillon of Possum Run was third. Also in the meet were Bernie Mathias of Possum Run and Carl Wiseman and Bob Moorhead, Westbrook.

A crowd of 250 persons witnessed the show which was a part of the formal opening of the new Richland range just west of Arlin field on Route 30-N.

Citation Should Win Garden State Stakes

CAMDEN, N. J.—(AP)—Barring the turf upset of a generation, Citation will move into fifth place among the money winners today.

The chestnut flyer from Warren Wright's Calumet Farm is expected to lead five other three-year-olds over Garden State park's mile and one-quarter racing strip in the $50,000 added Jersey Stakes.



BROTHER ACT—Pitchin' Paul Christman (left), who does his throwing for the Chicago Cardinals' football team, and his brother, Mark, Washington Senator infielder, get together in Chicago.

Ohio State Qualifies 16; Two Big Nine Records Set

MADISON, Wis.—(AP)—Two new records—the shot put and the discus—were in the Western conference record books today as the finals of the 48th annual outdoor track meet opened at Camp Randall.

Michigan's Charley Fonville and Minnesota's Fortune Gordien shattered the Big Nine marks in yesterday's preliminaries dominated by Ohio State in the chase for team laurels.

Fonville, who has a world record of 58 feet 3⅝ inch up for approval, pegged the 16-pound shot 54 feet 10 inches, bettering his own year-old mark by nine inches. Gordien flipped the discus 174 feet 4 inches to erase the conference record of 174 feet 1 inch set in 1941 by Archie Harris of Indiana.

The title-favored Buckeyes lived up to their advance billing, too, with 16 qualifiers in the nine preliminaries. Defending champion Illinois and Michigan were next with nine and eight, respectively.

FOUR IN 880

Ohio State placed four men among the nine qualifying in three heats of the 880 yard run. The Buckeyes also sent three men into the 440 yard finals, two each into the high and low hurdles and the 220 yard dash and one into the broad jump, 100 yard dash and discus.

Lloyd Duff, most versatile of OSU's performers, qualified in three events—both hurdles and the broad jump—and is figured for sure points in the pole vault which opens today's program of finals in all 14 events.

Shelly Swank Set at Second With Grays' 9

Shelly Swank, who only Thursday finished his high school baseball career, will be on second base for the Mansfield Grays when they meet the Ohio Boxboard team of Rittman tomorrow.

Swank batted .311 for Coach Jimmy Lymper's senior high team and will replace Foster Burgraff at the keystone for the Grays. Burgraff will be thrown into competition with Kenny Funk at shortstop and Manager Lefty Deeds is uncertain which of the two he will use.

Deeds promised that several other new faces may appear in the Grays infield with the close of high school and college seasons. He pointed out that poor infield play had been the cause of the loss of three of the four games to date.

Sunday's game, slated for Blue Goose diamond, will get under way at 2:30 p. m. The Grays will play Norka Plating of Akron here on Memorial Day.

State Finals Listed Today

Sycamore Township downed Brecksville, 3-2, and Orange Township topped McCutchenville, 7-6, in yesterday's Class B contests.

Gorman-Rupp Team Defeats Galion, 4-1

The Gorman-Rupp softball team was looking forward to the opening of the NCO Inter-City league after nailing down its third victory in four starts last night. Playing before a good turnout under the G-R floodlights, the host team trimmed Galion Perfection Steel, 4-1.

Gorman-Rupp will be host to Tiffin in the opening league game next Tuesday night.

In last night's game, the Mansfield team could garner only two hits off a pair of visiting hurlers but actually needed only one to pile up its runs. Pete Campbell homered after Bush had walked to ice the game in the sixth inning. Campbell's home run was a line drive to right center field and enabled him to cross the plate before the fielders could get to the ball.

TAKES THE LEAD

Gorman-Rupp had taken the lead with a pair of markers in the third inning. Wolf walked to open the frame and Kenny Windsor followed with another free ticket. Al Baki sacrificed them along and both came home on Bush's infield out and a wild pitch.

Galion got its run in the top of the sixth inning on successive doubles by Nelson and Wenninger.

Kenny Windsor, making his first start for Gorman-Rupp, struck out six visiting batters and walked only one. Eldon Pritchard's triple was the other G-R hit.

Tyger Golfers Win Seventh 1948 Match

The Senior high golf team closed its season yesterday at Ashland by chalking up its seventh victory of the season over the home linksmen, 7½ to 4½. The Tygers lost two matches and tied one.

Jim Chamberlain, playing in second position and Tony Taddeo, in No. 4, were the leading point getters yesterday with 2½ each. Chamberlain shot a pair of 45's to defeat Ashland's Auckerman who had 45-48—93, while Taddeo fired 46-43—89 for medalist honors and a win over Small who posted 46-45—91.

Larry Inscore, usually the low man of the Mansfield foursome, had an off day with 46-47—93 to drop 2½ points to Jones who fired 44-46—90. Steve Demyan won two points from Woefling with 45-46—91 against his opponent's 44-48—92.

Hager, Wiseman Pace Club Loop

Al Hager and Carl Wiseman, 1947 club champion, shared medalist honors in the Westbrook Country club league opening round yesterday as they toured the links in par 36

Bob Moorhead, who has won the club title on several occasions, was runner-up with 37 while Vic Slater, Pete Linster and Ed Chatlain fired 38's. One stroke back were Dale Rose, Howard Hosler and Bill Black jr.

The Pine Valley team jumped into the league lead with 4 points.

DAYTON — (AP) — Harlan W. Yendes, president of the Miami Valley Racing and Sulky association, said yesterday that a $1,000,000 one-mile horse racing track would be built near Vandalia, O., this year.

Qualifying For '500' Ends Today

INDIANAPOLIS —(AP)—Twelve to 25 cars will scramble from noon to sundown today for three remaining spots in the lineup for the 32nd annual 500-mile race Monday.

Some of the 30 previous qualifiers were not too secure and would be ousted if more than three cars bettered their qualifying speeds.

It was the biggest last-minute battle for starting positions in Indianapolis motor speedway history.

Something always is the biggest or fastest or strangest happening in the history of America's noisiest sports event.

Last year's novelties were the drivers' strike, settled the week of the race, and the first one-two team victory by Mauri Rose and Bill Holland.

BIGGEST EVER

This year's race seems likely to be unique on several counts. The original entry list of 80 cars was the biggest ever. Sixty-five cars actually reached the track and that also was a record. The big field resulted in an unprecedented shortage of drivers, with the better known pilots just about having their pick of cars.

Monday's show will draw some 150,000 spectators and they may see the fastest of the 32 races. Qualification speeds indicated a half-dozen cars had the stuff to beat Floyd Roberts' record of 117.2 miles an hour that has stood since 1937.

Ohio Staters Upset Illinois

CHICAGO —(AP)— Victories by both Michigan and Illinois over their respective opponents today would leave them co-champions of the Big Nine baseball season.

The Illini's hope for an undisputed pennant was crushed yesterday as third-place Ohio State took an upset triumph 6-0 at Columbus. Michigan, meanwhile, romped over last place Northwestern 8-0

This left Michigan and Illinois with 9-2 records entering their final conference games today against the same foes. Ohio has a 7-4 mark.

Pete Perini spaced six hits in blanking the Illini yesterday. He bested Marv Rotblatt who lost his first Big Nine game of the season and the second conference decision in his collegiate career.

Purdue trounced Iowa, 9-3, and Minnesota beat Indiana 9-3.

Pirrone Dies

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Funeral services were to be arranged today for Joey Pirrone, 29, former leading lightweight boxer, who died late yesterday as the result of a fall from a 22-foot scaffolding.

Tom Tucker On All-Ohio Track Team

COLUMBUS—(INS)—The Ohio Association of Track Coaches came up with its official All-Ohio high school team today and offered to pit its selections against any similar team from any other state.

The selections were spearheaded by Gene Cole of Lancaster, who set a national record of 48 seconds in the 440-yard dash and also won two other events at the state track meet in Columbus a week ago.

Tucker

The honor list is based on recorded season-long times and distances rather than on state meet results alone.

Cole and Walter Klevay, ace Independence high school dash man, were named the outstanding individuals in Class A and Class B, respectively.

Cole placed on the 100, 220 and 440 lists plus the two relays.

★

Tom Tucker, Mansfield's pint-sized sophomore star, was selected in two events. He was named on the 100-yard and 880-yard relay lists, although his best event was the broad jump.

Galion's Ronald Myers was picked on the 880 and mile relay teams.

Bill Veeck Scheduled To Leave Hospital

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Bill Veeck, president of the Cleveland Indians, is scheduled to leave Cleveland clinic today, nearly four weeks after a third amputation on his right leg, the hospital said yesterday.

Veeck's leg was injured in an accident while he was with the Marines in the South Pacific.

Philadelphia Wins 6th Straight

By BEN PHLEGAR
(AP Sports Writer)

Connie Mack, whose luck seems to be all good for a change apparently has found the relief man he wants in the veteran Nelson Potter

A couple weeks ago the Athletics bought Potter from the St. Louis Browns in a straight cash deal. The chunky righthander, strictly a starting pitcher with the Browns ever since 1943 has been used three times by Philadelphia, always in relief. He worked once in a losing cause then saved a game

Last night in Shibe park against the New York Yankees he clinched the job. He entered the game in the fifth with two on and none out. He escaped without a run and from then on the Yanks couldn't move past first.

In all Potter gave up only two hits and received credit for the 6-3 victory. It was the sixth in a row for the A's who maintained their one game first place margin over the Cleveland Indians.

Cleveland stayed right behind by whipping the Chicago White Sox, 2 to 0, in Chicago.

The Boston Red Sox slipped to seventh place again by losing to the Senators, 2-1, in Washington.

A seventh inning rally brought the St. Louis Browns a 5-4 victory over Detroit and moved them to within three percentage points of the fourth place Tigers.

In the National league the St. Louis Cardinals increased their first place lead to three full games over the New York Giants, although rain shortened their game in Pittsburgh to a 1-1 six-inning tie.

The Giants couldn't handle the Philadelphia Phils in the Polo Grounds and lost, 6 to 3. New York Manager Mel Ott announced he was playing the game under protest after Umpire Art Gore ruled that Emil Verban held a thrown ball long enough to force a runner at second base. The ball then bounded away.

The Brooklyn Dodgers finally caught up with the Boston Braves and beat them, 7 to 5, in Boston. It was the first time the Dodgers had turned the trick in the last nine games between the two clubs.

Hank Sauer hit his 11th and 12th home runs and Grady Hatton and Johnny Wyrostek chipped in with four baggers for the Cincinnati Reds against the Chicago Cubs, but the long blows weren't enough. The Cubs came from far behind and nosed out the Reds, 10 to 8, at Cincinnati

Rev. John G. Gensel

MAIN PROGRAM MONDAY

Services tomorrow will be preliminary to a two-day observance of the annual holiday. Decoration of the graves and the parade will follow on Monday.

While Mansfield's veteran groups and their auxiliaries are worshipping in tribute to the city's war dead, churches of Mansfield will also observe the day in sermon and music.

Rev. Willard J. Shawk of the Main Street Evangelical UB church will speak on the subject, "The Call to Sacrifice." At the Mayflower Congregational church, Rev. Arthur F. Lindbeck will be heard in a sermon on the theme, "The Spirit of Memorial Day."

Tomorrow morning, Rev. J. Frank Stewart, pastor of the Central Methodist church, will talk on "In Memory" and Rev. H. L. Anderson of the Mitchell Chapel, AME, will talk about "The Value of Peace."

TALKS ON 'FREEDOM'

Rev. Helen Wright, pastor of the First Church of God, will speak to her congregation on "Freedom Purchased for All." At the church of the Nazarene, parishioners will hear Rev. A. H. Perry discourse on the theme, "Our Honored Dead."

"Divine Justice" has been selected as the sermon subject by Rev. C. A. Portz, pastor of the St. Mark's Lutheran church, and at the First Congregational, Rev. Matthew G. Madden will answer the question, "Have These Men Died in Vain?"

For his sermon at the St. John's Evangelical church, Rev. John C. Melchert has chosen the subject, "In God We Trust."

Rev. James E. Davey will speak on the theme, "What Meaneth These Stones."

Most churches will present music in keeping with the day and in many of the city's sanctuaries members of this year's graduating class will be given recognition

Group Goes To Tiffin

Rev. and Mrs. Matthew G. Madden, Mrs. Charles Fuchs and Mrs. Mary James of the First Congregational church will go to Tiffin next week to attend the 96th annual meeting of the Ohio Conference of Congregational churches. Sessions will be held at Heidelberg college, beginning Tuesday at 4 p. m. and continuing through June 4.

The big issue at the conference will be the vote on the proposed merger between the Congregational and the Evangelical and Reformed churches.

So far in Ohio individual churches have voted 89 per cent in favor of the proposed merger, according to Rev. Madden. The First Congregational church here, while voting against the merger, voted also to participate if the vote is favorable nationally.

The various districts have voted in favor of the merger. The Central district, to which the First Congregational church of this city belongs, returned a 99 per cent favorable vote for the issue. It is expected that the vote of the Ohio conference will be favorable, Rev. Madden said.

National vote on the proposal will be taken at a conference of the church which is scheduled for Oberlin June 17 to 24.

Concludes Series Of Sermons Here

Rev. D. R. Moreland, evangelist, this week will conclude his series of revival services at the Church of God, 538 Wayne street.

The services began two weeks ago. Great interest has attended them, according to the pastor, Rev. Edward Kustel This is Rev. Moreland's second appearance in Mansfield.

Intolerance--Evil Child of Pride — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON — By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Jonah

The voice of God came to Jonah, telling him to go to the wicked city of Nineveh and tell the people to repent or He would destroy the city. Jonah did not want to go and took a ship that was sailing to Tarshish.

A great wind arose and tossed the ship about so that all feared that they would be wrecked. By casting lots they decided Jonah was to blame and cast him overboard. A great fish swallowed him, but after three days he was cast out.

Jonah then obeyed the Lord, went to Nineveh and told the people that in 40 days their city and all its people would perish, but they repented and the Lord, seeing that they grieved for their sins, forgave them and spared the city.

Jonah was angry that his prophecy was not fulfilled and went outside the city to sulk under a gourd, but the Lord rebuked him for his lack of understanding and unforgiving spirit.

MEMORY VERSE—Jonah 1:6.

Seniors Pick Baccalaureate Speaker By Democratic Vote

Selecting a pastor for this year's baccalaureate service was somewhat of a problem for members of the 1948 graduating class at Mansfield Senior high school. Four members of the class have fathers who are pastors, three of them in active ministry here.

So the 384 seniors did as they have done all year when decisions had to be made — they submitted the problem to a democratic vote.

As the result of that vote, they chose Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell, pastor of the First English Lutheran church, whose children are too small to be considered "competition."

REV. CARVETH P. MITCHELL

Tomorrow night when the seniors march to their seats in the front pews of the auditorium at the First Lutheran church, they will hear Rev. Mitchell ask, "What do you want from Life?" and answer it from the point of view of a former high school and college graduate, now a minister.

SENIORS PROVIDE MUSIC

Music for the service will be provided by seniors. The choir from the graduating class will sing, "Open Our Eyes" by MacFarlane and Marjorie Selby will sing, as a solo, "O Lord Most Holy" by Franck. Phyllis Stahl will be the narrator for the choir the choir number.

Rev. Charles W. Stoneburner and Rev. Arthur F. Lindbeck, two of the minister-fathers, will assist in the services.

Tomorrow night's service will open commencement week. It will conclude with the graduating exercises in the stadium at 6 p. m. Wednesday if the weather is fair and in the Senior high auditorium, otherwise.

Two tickets are being issued to each senior for the parents. These tickets may be used either at the stadium or in the auditorium. At the stadium they will admit parents to a special section.

Parents will NOT be admitted to the auditorium, in case of rain, without the tickets. This point was emphasized today by Ralph Juniper, senior class adviser.

Memorial Day Parade Planned

MILLERSBURG —The Memorial Day parade in Millersburg will be held Monday morning.

The parade will form at 9:15 at the courthouse and move toward the cemetery promptly at 9:30, Corliss Snyder, general chairman, announces . The Millersburg high school band will head the parade.

THREE MINERS DEAD

SCRANTON, Pa. — (AP) — The last of three miners trapped 200 feet underground by a rockfall were brought out dead by rescue workers Friday.

Young People Meet Tonight

In keeping with the week-end Memorial Day observance, young people of the city's churches who meet tonight at John Simpson auditorium will conduct candlelight memorial rites.

The meeting tonight is being sponsored by the Youth-for-Christ movement and it is expected that between 700 and 800 will be present.

Lewis Stambaugh at the piano and James Hunter jr., song leader, will direct the general community singing.

Flower Day Observed

Two events of importance mark the church calendar this week at the Grace Episcopal church.

Tomorrow morning will be the last Sunday session for the church school until September. In commemoration of the final session, Flower Day will be observed by the children of the primary department under the direction of Mrs Peter Zivkoff, superintendent.

During the 11 a. m. service, while the boy choir sings "All Things Bright and Beautiful" he children will march forward to form a large cross of flowers at the chancel steps.

Friday the annual parish-wire picnic will be held at South park, beginning with games at 5 p. m. A picnic supper will be served at 6 p. m. in the pavilion. Coffee, ice cream and cake will be supplied by members of the Vestry and their wives, who will act as hosts for the picnic. A feature of the recreation period will be the annual softball game between the men and the boys of the parish.

Power Fails; Carillion Late

GALION—The carillon in the tower of Peace Lutheran church played 30 minutes late Friday night because of an accident 10 hours earlier.

The carillon is started automatically by an electric system. Its tardiness was due to an accident at the Galion Municipal Light and Power plant at 9:30 a. m. that caused a 30-minute city wide power failure.

The power shut-off was caused when a workman accidentally knocked a trip regulator out of adjustment at the electric light plant while he was cleaning one of the turbines.

An emergency auxiliary generating unit was put into effect at City hospital where surgeons were about to start an operation.

An emergency electric supply unit was used by the Northern Ohio Telephone company.

Hear Report

A report from the Maple Lake planning committee will be presented to the membership at a meeting Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the Maple Lake park hut.
